"KOREA, A FORGOTTEN WAR"

(By Cpl. Tom Lyons, U S Army, 2nd Inf. Div.)

Why have they forgotten?
Will some one let me know.
A war fought through the summers,
And through the winters snow.

Will any one out there listen,
To what we have to say?
While fighting in Korea,
We lived from day to day.

We were but young Americans,
Sent off to fight that war,
After it had ended,
You heard of us no more.

Many young Americans,
Sacrificed their flesh and blood.
While serving in Korea,
They died while fighting in mud.

Those veterans now lay,
In sacred ground so hallow,
Before this war was over,
Many more GI's did follow.

We were proud to serve our country,
In that far off land,
Why has our nation forgotten,
We shall never understand.
